

Penny felt so proud of herself for standing up for the pea and getting people to listen to what he wanted, so she decided to be an ally and go and stand up for other people too. Can you think of other groups of people who might need someone to stand up for them? For example, people who are homeless or refugees. What might Penny say?

"I think we should treat everyone fairly. We need to..."

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

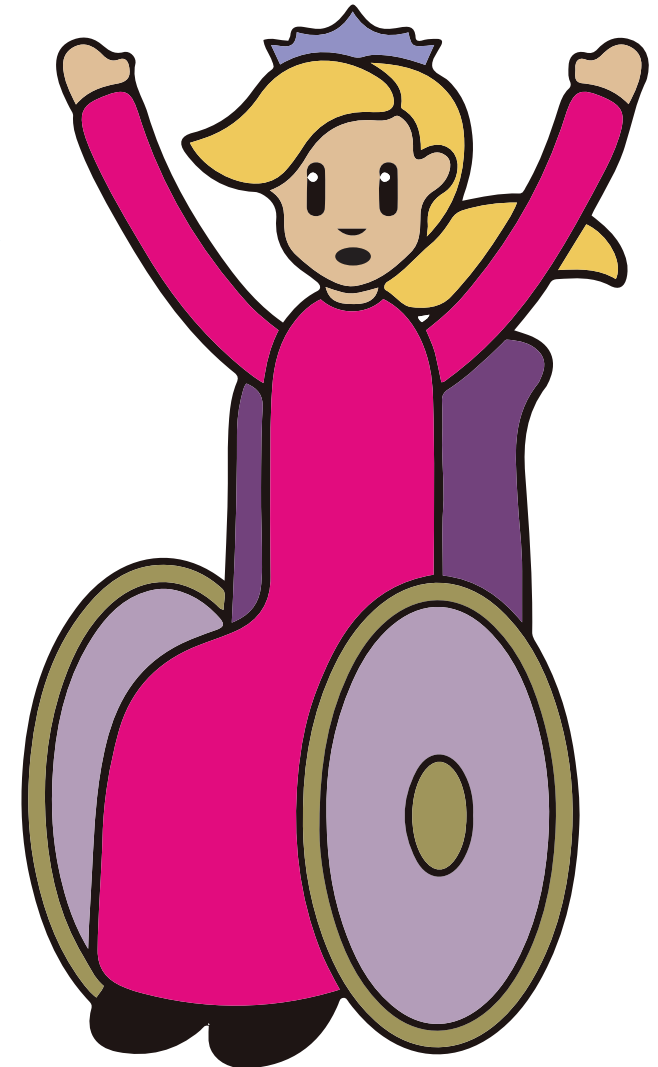

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Penny felt so proud of herself for standing up for the pea and getting people to listen to what he wanted, so she decided to be an ally and go and stand up for other people too. Can you think of other groups of people who might need someone to stand up for them? For example, people who are homeless or refugees. What might Penny say?

“I think we should treat everyone fairly. We need to...”

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

