

Ben Barres was a super-smart brain scientist who spoke up for equality and fairness in science. Imagine he's coming to visit your school and it's your job to introduce him to everyone so they know what a special person he was.

Use the Pop'n'Olly Ben Barres poster to collect some important facts about Ben that you think people should know.

---

---

---

---

---

Can you think of some great adjectives that would describe Ben?

---

---

---

What's a great way to start your introduction? Can you get everyone's attention with an interesting fact?

---

---

---

How will you finish your introduction? How will you make sure people know Ben was an important person? Do you want people to clap for Ben?

---

---

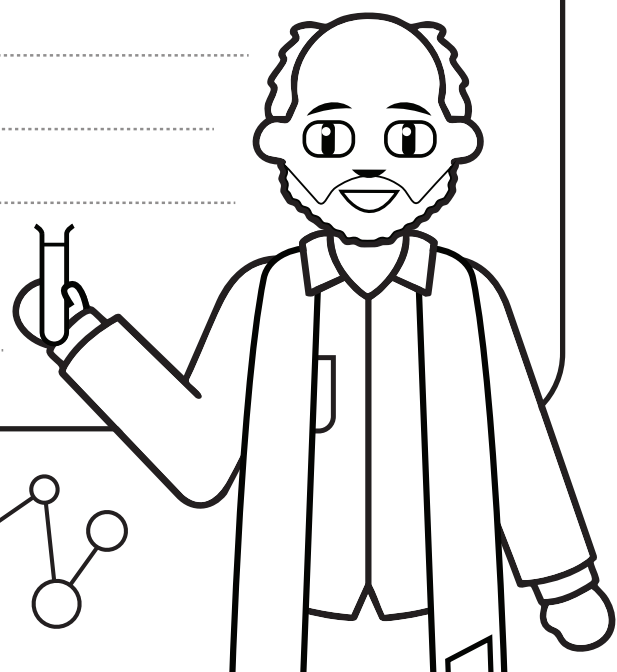

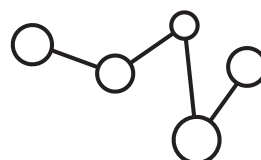

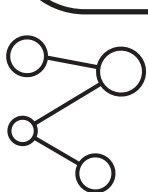

---

Use your plan to write a positive introduction for Ben so everyone is keen to hear him speak.

---

---

---

A black and white line drawing of a man with a beard and mustache, wearing a collared shirt, holding a test tube in his right hand. He is positioned in the bottom right corner of the page, which is filled with horizontal dashed lines for writing.

A black and white line drawing of a man with a beard and glasses, wearing a shirt and tie, holding a pointer stick. He is positioned in the bottom right corner of the page, which is filled with horizontal dashed lines for writing.